Graduate Certificate in Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA)
and Master’s Degree (M.Ed.) Options

Updated February 1, 2017

Overview

Central to either the Graduate Certificate or the M.Ed. option is our course sequence that trains practitioners extensively in Applied Behavior Analysis with a focus on treating Autism. Recent Michigan legislation mandates insurance companies to cover therapeutic services for autistic persons by BCBA credentialed treatment providers. To earn a BCBA credential, a master’s degree in psychology, education/special education, or Applied Behavior Analysis is required, plus a specific sequence of 5 classes (18 credit hours total) and 6 credits of practicum across three semesters as described below. Our course sequence has received full approval by the Behavior Analytic Certification Board (BACB). This BCBA certification course sequence can either be part of a master’s program or a post-master’s set of courses that will meet the requirements for students to sit for the BCBA exam. Students who successfully complete the courses are eligible to sit for the BCBA examination, which, upon passing, would lead to the BCBA credential.

Students enter the program as a cohort. The cohort model includes a combination of supported and independent learning through classroom based and practiced-based hands-on learning. Cohort-mates work collaboratively throughout their training. Thus, all classes in the BCBA course sequence are live, classroom-based courses. Online and hybrid classes are not available for the courses in this sequence. Although some students find the online and hybrid courses convenient, the interactive learning environment and the hands-on learning activities offered in the BCBA course sequence classes at Wayne State University will help students take their learning experiences into the workplace for a more seamless crossover between classroom and field placement activities. This instills a sense of professional community not only during the program, but as students move into the field as practitioners. Our program emphasizes the importance of intensive learning while in the program as well as the need for collaborative lifelong learning.

We offer cohorts that run during the day and cohorts that run in the evening. Cohorts that begin in May will run in the evening. Cohorts that begin in August will be run during daytime hours. All classes are typically taught at the Wayne State University Oakland Campus. Also see the “Course Schedule” section farther below for additional detail.

There are two options for the field/practicum experience that is also required for students seeking to sit for the BCBA exam: Option (a) involves 750 hours of time. This is considered an accelerated practicum and is conducted at the University Pediatrician's Autism Center in Novi, Detroit, or Clinton Township. Students will complete associated tasks and practicum activities by being immersed into a center-based practicum site and assigned a direct center-based supervisor. Students will receive increased supervision and supervisors will have met a minimum criterion of performance based on site reviews conducted by WSU faculty and staff. This is a competitive option, and students will have to apply for it at the end of the first course in the BCBA course sequence. Not all will be accepted—maximum number selected is based on space. Option (b) involves 1500 hours of time at a location to be secured by the student. This option is typically chosen by those who are already working in the field and have a natural setting in which to conduct the required activities. Applicants will be asked which option they plan to select. For the accelerated practicum, hours are completed during day time or evening, commensurate with the coursework plan for your cohort. Regardless of whether you are selecting the master’s degree or post-master’s Graduate Certificate option, students will enroll in a total of 6 credits of field/practicum experience, which includes weekly seminar meetings, across each of the final three courses of the sequence (after the initial two courses)—2 field experience seminar credit hours per each of the three practicum courses.

Applicants must choose whether they are going to select the course sequence as either a) a series of 18 credits earning a Graduate Certificate in Applied Behavior Analysis (must have prior master’s degree in psychology, education/special education, or applied behavior analysis required) plus one of the practicum options, either of which also requires an additional 6 credits of practicum, or b) part of a Master’s of Education (M.Ed.) degree in Educational Psychology, which involves the same 18 credit sequence, plus an additional 12 credits of coursework (Bachelor’s degree required) and one of the practicum options, either of which also requires an additional 6 credits of practicum. Both options lead to the BCBA credential, providing the BCBA exam is passed after completing the ABA/BCBA course sequence. Regardless of whether route “a” or “b” is chosen, the ABA/BCBA five-course sequence is taken at the same time by all students admitted at the same time as a cohort. Cohorts must take their classes in sequence together as outlined by the program—it is a block scheduled program with no variations permitted. The M.Ed. route described above is already in place and will involve a total of 30 credits plus 6 credits of practicum.

Note to those entering with a master’s degree: The BACB has limited only those degrees from psychology, education, and applied behavior analysis as eligible for the course sequence. Unfortunately, social work was not made eligible. Anyone is still eligible to enroll in our full M.Ed. program described below, but the course sequence option without the M.Ed. program is no longer available outside of those degrees. This is a BACB decision—not a WSU decision.

Summary

Regardless of route, everyone takes the five-course BCBA sequence (18 credits)—these count toward either the M.Ed. or the Graduate Certificate. Also, everyone takes the 6 credits of practicum and attends the seminars associated with it, regardless of where you conduct your practicum—these are extra above and beyond the M.Ed. or Graduate Certificate. If you need the Master’s degree, you take an additional 12 credits of the courses listed farther below. Thus, if you need the M.Ed., you will be taking 18+12+6=36 credits and if you only need the Graduate Certificate, you will be taking 18+6=24 credits.

Prerequisites

Applicants are expected to meet the minimum undergraduate 2.75 GPA requirement outlined by the WSU Graduate School.

Course Schedule
For all cohorts, the five courses in the sequence occur in succession, one per each of five sequential semesters (EDP 7101, 7102, 7103, 7104, and 7105, with the practicum courses (EDP 7107, 7108, 7109) occurring along with EDP 7103, 7104, and 7105, respectively. For example, a cohort beginning in the Fall semester (in August) will take the five semesters in sequence in the Fall, Winter, Spring/Summer, Fall, Winter. A cohort beginning in the Spring/Summer semester (in May) will take the five semesters in sequence in Spring/Summer, Fall, Winter, Spring/Summer, Fall. Students must be aware that they have to commit to this going into the program. There will be no flexibility.

For cohorts that begin in the Spring/Summer semester, the BCBA course sequence classes are offered during evenings, with classes typically running sometime between 4:30 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. For cohorts that begin in the Fall semester, the BCBA course sequence courses are offered during the day time, with classes typically running sometime between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Those in the daytime cohort will have classes one to two days per week. We do our best to consolidated the courses to one day when possible so that students can work and complete practicum experiences on the other days. For both the day time and evening cohorts, students have to be prepared to commit to the plan, despite that there may be some fluctuations in exact course times and days of the week.
The accelerated practicum, for those desiring of and accepted for that option, runs for three consecutive semesters. Students enroll, respectively, in three field experience courses, each for two credits (EDP 7107, 7108, and 7109) along with the last three classes/semesters of the course sequence (EDP 7103, 7104, and 7105), as described above. The hours for this practicum run commensurate with those of the daytime or evening cohort. If a student is in the day time cohort, for example, all courses and practicum experiences are typically finished by 4:00 p.m. For the evening cohort, all classes and practicum experiences occur between 4:30 and 9:00 p.m. Students choosing the alternative practicum option are not tied to the three semester timeline for full completion of the hours, as it may take longer to do the 1500-hour experience, but they must enroll in the three semesters of practicum along with those in the accelerated practicum.

M.Ed. in Educational Psychology

For those who need a master’s degree along with the BCBA sequence, you need to apply to the Master of Education Program in Educational Psychology. You will take the same above BCBA sequence (EDP 7101, 7102, 7103, 7104, and 7105 coursework, plus EDP 7107, 7108, and 7109 as practica along with the cohort with which you are admitted, plus the five courses listed below, to be taken with the following non-negotiable specifications: 1) EDP 5450 must be taken along with your cohort with EDP 7101 during your first semester, at whatever day and time slot that it is offered, and 2) EDP 7610 must be taken along with EDP 7102 in the second semester, at whatever day and timeslot that it is offered. This is non-negotiable and, like the BCBA sequence courses, students must be available to take these courses whenever they are scheduled--daytime or evening. Students must enter this program with flexibility in mind as they have to adjust to any schedule.

1) EDP 5450  Child Psychology (3 credits) (semester 1)
2) EDP 7610  Child and Adolescent Psychopathology (3 credits) (semester 2)

These other three College of Education core courses can be scheduled at any point in your program that you choose:

3) EER 7610  Evaluation and Measurement (2 credits) (any time)
4) EDA 7600  Structure of American Education (2 credits) (any time)
   may be substituted for EHP 7600 Philosophy of Education (2 credits)
5) CED 6700  The Role of Teacher in Guidance (2 credits) (any time)

Although WSU allows six years from the time of admission to the time of program completion, the BCBA board permits only up to 5 years total from the onset of your coursework to completion of the rest of that program and passing of the BCBA exam. Thus, it will be up to you to pace this part of the program to fit your career goals and plans. After you are admitted to the program, Dr. Somers will send you a plan of work for your program.

In addition, one of the practicum options is required for BCBA certification. However, it is not a required part of the M.Ed. program and thus will not go on the university’s official Plan of Work.
Admission Procedures

Admission to either option requires a University Graduate Admissions application (submitted online to Graduate Admissions—either an “Educational Psychology – M.Ed.” application or an “Applied Behavior Analysis – Graduate Certificate” application), a program area application, statement of purpose essay, official transcripts, and three letters of recommendation (each described in detail below). All of this information is used comprehensively to evaluate a student’s potential candidacy for the programs. A limited number of qualified applicants are invited for an interview with the faculty. Applicants are strongly encouraged to contact the program secretary at (313) 577-1614 if clarification is needed and to check on the status of applications.

Following are four sets of materials required to be sent to one or more recipient. Please following this carefully, or your application review will be delayed. For items that we want sent directly to us in the Educational Psychology, use the following address:

Program) or “Applied Behavior Analysis – Graduate Certificate” (for those students who already have an eligible Master’s Degree and will be just taking coursework and internship(s). You are encouraged to contact the program secretary at (313) 577-1614 to ensure you have applied correctly and to have any concerns addressed.

2) Official Transcripts. You have to do two things regarding transcripts:  a) Official transcripts are required to be sent directly from all previously attended universities to Graduate Admissions with your graduate application. Official transcripts are required to be sent directly from all previous universities to Wayne State University Office of Graduate Admissions at 5057 Woodward, Suite 6000, Detroit, MI 48202 [phone: (313) 577-4723]. 4) Program Application. The Program Application is a different application than the Graduate Admission Application that is submitted online directly to Graduate Admissions. The Program Application can be found further in this brochure and is specific to our department. This does not go to the university. You can type or handwrite it, but it needs to be submitted directly to Dr. Somers at the above address.
