How to select a site for a counseling/art therapy internship:

1. When enrolled in CED 7150 (counseling practicum) you will be given a list of sites as well as a Counseling Internship Handbook.
2. An LPC must be onsite for counseling supervision. The ATR supervision can take place off site (e.g. in internship seminar).
3. To accrue both sets of art therapy and counseling hours simultaneously, you must be able to practice art therapy/counseling at your internship site.
4. Contact Holly Feen for the most up to date list of sites in which you are likely to be able to practice art therapy and counseling.
5. Students may do their own “leg work” to find a site at least one semester in advance of the planned internship, or they may request assistance from Holly Feen (who may ask you to complete the internship application used to place MEd students).
6. Generally speaking, students interview with one or more sites until a good match is found.
7. Counseling students take responsibility for paperwork required for counseling internship placement.
8. Students attend BOTH counseling and art therapy seminars, which meet usually every other week. Sometimes both the AED 7890 and CED 7020 seminars are scheduled on the same evening (meeting one week for art therapy / one week for counseling). In other semesters students attend approx. 7-8 art therapy seminars and 7-8 counseling seminars on two different days of the week.
